
The Patriots

After watching that comeback win today I would have to say I am about 99% positive that the Pats are going undefeated this year.

Looking at their schedule I just don't see a strong potential for a loss anywhere.

What do you think? Do they go undefeated?

If the colts win out, the pats will win out. but if the colts lose, i wouldnt be suprised to see the pats loss in week 16 or 17. But im starting to think the pats are the real deal. However the illegal tape keeps me from putting them with the dolphins the year they ran the table.

If the Patriots do go undeated, do they deserve an asterisk by their name in the record books. They were caught cheating during the course of the season, Don Shula seems to think they need an asterisk, and so do I.

I agree an asterick needs to be there, I think theres alot more to this spygate then the NFL wants us to know about. Funny how they got rid of the evidence so quick.

The Pats are not going undefeated! Remember this is the year 2007...

Don Shula is self-interested... the Patriots got caught cheating early in the first game of the year in a game they absolutely dominated. Since then (when they presumably have not cheated), they have embarrassed every team except one. They already got punished for the cheating... they should not be punished again with an asterisk if they do manage to go undefeated.

I don't think they deserve an asterisk. Its not like it really mattered in the game that they got caught in. I'm about 97% positive that the Pats will run the regular season table, but as far as playoffs, you never know. I would kinda like to see it cause that would make dolphin fans even more depressed about this season. This is probably the best shot for another unblemished season.

Pats survive again. What'd you think of the game against the Ravens and is it possible that jabar Gaffney could still be juggling that ball?

i dont think he was juggling it, he was just transitioning it to his other hand

I think that when looking at the Gaffney touchdown, you have to look at the NFL rule about overturning a challenged play. There has to be indisputable evidence to overturn it. I am not sure if Gaffney caught the ball, but even in replay it's too close to call and the initial call was touchdown so that is what the final call was.

One can see why the Ravens defense is so pissed at the coaches and the offense. There are a bunch of proud playmakers on that defense, and they do a decent job of keeping teams at bay but the offense and play calling just doesn't come through for them.

IS this the week that it finally happens? The pats go down to the steelers, 31-28

Re:The Patriots

Pats 27 - 17 Steelers

Re:The Patriots

Posted by grittysquirrels - 2007/12/09 19:18

Final ended up 34-13...

I think it's almost safe to say that the Pats are gunna do it this year.

Now the only problem is that i'm going to have to listen to all this cheating and asterisk talk on ESPN until i die.

The patriots went 16 - 0 tonight. I've heard most of your thoughts on the 16 - 0 needing or not needing an astrisk, but what about their super bowls under bill belicheck.

Re:The Patriots

Posted by gonnerview - 2008/01/03 15:28

Yeah but it doesn't matter. This entire season will be a waste if they don't win the super bowl.

Re:The Patriots

i would be a very happy human being if the pats lost to the colts or jags.

Bill Belichick won the coach of the year. I guess it's hard to argue if the saying is true, "If you aren't cheating you aren't trying."

So, you may have read my article....

What do you think 18-1 means for the Patriots dynasty?

PS couldn't be happier

Take away their super bowl wins, they've been cheating since they beat the rams. award the super bowl wins to the rams, panthers, and eagles. cheaters never win.
